1. Mandate

1.1. Note to Revised Plan

In December 2020, the Pay Equity Office initiated a refresh of its strategic plan to take into account the dramatic environmental changes of 2020. The new planning process was still underway at the time that the Office needed to submit its 2021-24 business plan to the Minister of Labour, Training and Skills Development. Now that the strategic plan refresh is complete, the Office sets out its updated business plan herein.

1.2. Mandate

The Pay Equity Office is a key partner in Ontario's employment and labour system which enables individuals to access the labour market and exchange their skills and talents at a fair rate of compensation. Our work focuses on women, work and gender issues. We have a particular interest in helping women to achieve economic well-being through pay equity. We are also focused on gaining an understanding of gender inequality and discrimination so that this can be remedied.

The Pay Equity Commission (the Commission) was established by section 27 of the Pay Equity Act, R.S.O. 1990, c.P.7. Its purpose is to redress gender discrimination in the compensation of workers employed in female job classes in Ontario and to ensure 'equal pay for work of equal value'.

The Commission consists of two separate and independent bodies: The Pay Equity Office (PEO), headed by the Commissioner, and the Pay Equity Hearings Tribunal (the Tribunal), headed by the Chair. Both the Commissioner and the Chair are appointed by the Lieutenant Governor in Council.

Section 33 of the Act sets out the specific responsibilities of the PEO:

- (1) The Pay Equity Office is responsible for the enforcement of this act. R.S.O. 1990, c. P.7, s. 33 (1); 1993, c. 4, s. 20 (1).
- (2) Without limiting the generality of subsection (1), the Pay Equity Office,
 - (a) may conduct research and produce papers concerning any aspect of pay equity and related subjects and make recommendations to the Minister in connection therewith;
 - (b) may conduct public education programs and provide information concerning any aspect of pay equity and related subjects;
 - (c) shall provide support services to the Hearings Tribunal;

- (d) shall conduct such studies as the Minister requires and make reports and recommendations in relation thereto;
- (e) shall conduct a study with respect to systemic gender discrimination in compensation for work performed, in sectors of the economy where employment has traditionally been predominantly female, by female job classes in establishments that have no appropriate male job classes for the purpose of comparison under section 5 and, within one year of the effective date, shall make reports and recommendations to the Minister in relation to redressing such discrimination;

The Minister of Labour, Training and Skills Development represents the PEO and the Tribunal in Cabinet and its Committees, in the Legislative Assembly and before Committees of the Legislature.

The Minister is accountable to the Legislature for the PEO's and the Tribunal's fulfillment of their mandates, and their compliance with statutes and government administrative policies. The Minister is also responsible for the review and approval of their Business Plans and Annual Reports.

This Business Plan presents the planned activities and accompanying key performance indicators for the Pay Equity Office. It has been prepared in accordance with the Agencies and Appointments Directive and the Guide to Developing Business Plans for Provincial Agencies, June 2020.

2. Planned Activities

In our 2021-22 fiscal and programming year, the PEO will continue to carry out its core statutory mandate, as outlined above, of enforcing the act by monitoring and responding to complaints, and by offering public education and information programs, all guided by the renewed strategic plan.

2.1. New Vision, Mission and Guiding Principles

Through an iterative, collaborative process, the PEO team carefully developed and adopted a new Vision, Mission, and Guiding Principles.

Vision: Make the world a more equitable place for women to work, live, and thrive.

Mission: Closing the gender wage gap.

Guiding Principles:

Listen First

Seek first to understand and genuinely respect others' perspectives.

Serve with objectivity and empathy

Serve one another and the public with intent and awareness.

Welcome the new and different

Seek effective and innovative approaches to deliver our work.

Grow together

We are resilient and overcome hurdles together while keeping our sights set on a better tomorrow.

Engage with passion

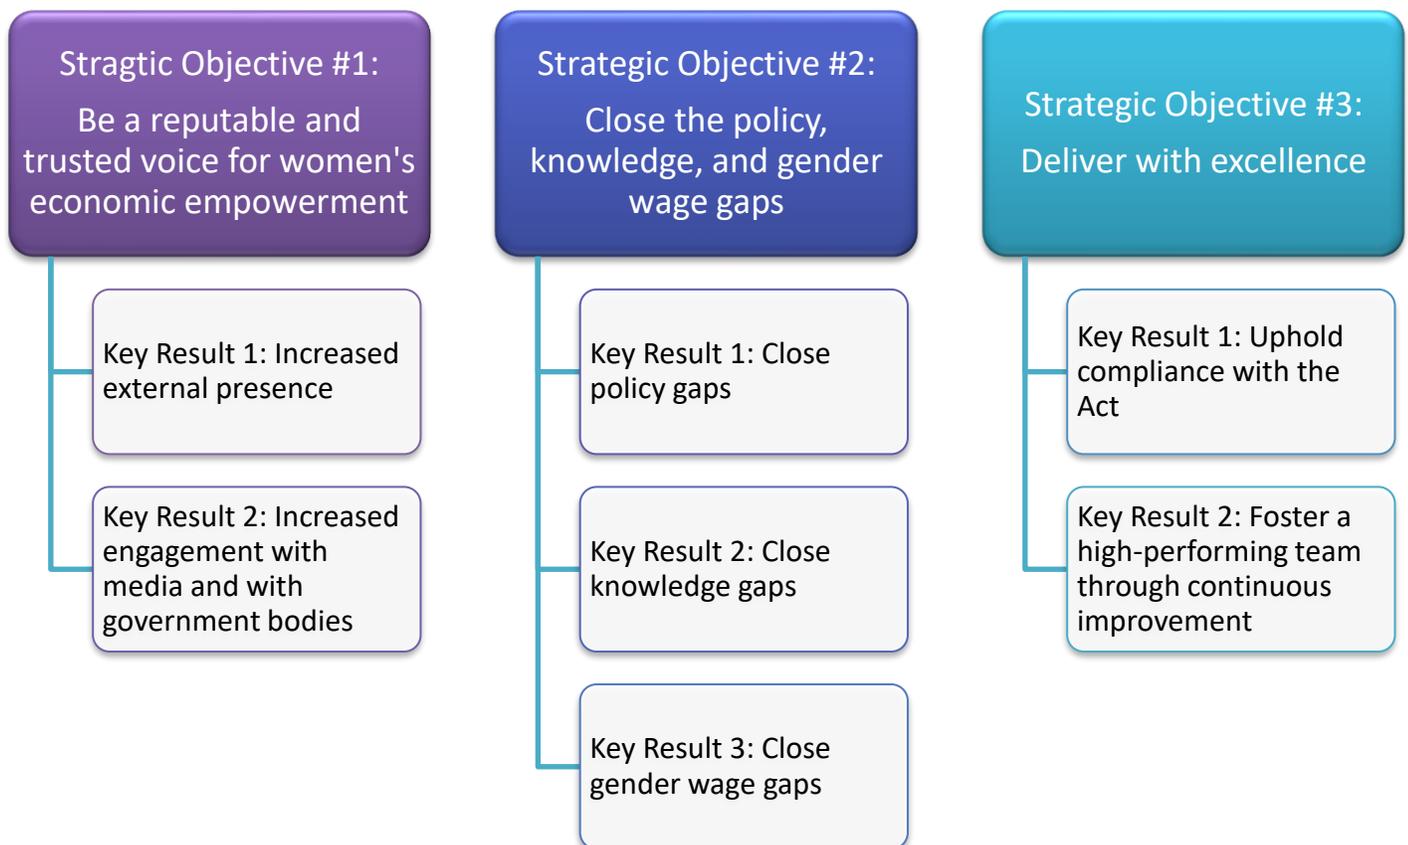

Our dedication to our mission is apparent to all.

Demonstrate leadership

We show others the way.

2.2. Strategic Objectives and Key Results

The PEO team defined three strategic objectives to guide its activities for the next three years. Defined key results for each objective will help us know whether we've achieved our objectives.

3. Objectives, Key Results, and Performance Measures

In 2021-22, the PEO will report on achievements against its Objectives and Key Results (OKRs).

¹ The conversion of professional development events to virtual formats in 2020 led to dramatic changes in event programs and accessibility. In many instances, the number of participants increased significantly where the virtual medium made participation more convenient and less costly. In other instances, organizers have decided to permanently change their event formats to offer more frequent events but with smaller groups. Therefore, the PEO will monitor participant numbers over the first year of this three-year business planning cycle to establish new baseline targets.
